- JPR Deposit: Prior to commencement of JPR, payment of the $1,500 deposit must be made. The deposit is to cover the cost of RCA's review. If RCA's costs exceed $1,500, applicant will be billed for the additional amount. If RCA's costs are less than $1,500, applicant will be refunded the remaining balance of the deposit.
- Checks should be made payable to the Western Riverside County Regional Conservation Authority, and the check memo must include a project number. JPR application materials will not be reviewed until full deposit is made.
- Attach all relevant reports/permittee findings to this form.
- Submittals must include a PDF copy of project documentation (consistency analysis, DBESP if required) and shapefiles depicting proposed development, conservation, mitigation areas and any offsite improvements.
